Our college celebrated traditional day as it is part of the core of our culture. Respecting our traditions will help keep us in to be in our culture and adapt to the new one. Most importantly, festivals are an expressive way to celebrate the glorious heritage, culture and traditions. Their goal is to enjoy the special moments and feelings of their lives with their loved ones. They play an important role in adding fabric to our social lives and connecting us to our families and backgrounds. They distract us from the daily exhausting routine of life and inspire us to remember the important things and moments in life. The purpose of the festivals is to pass on legends, knowledge and traditions to the next generation.

2. Constitution Day Celebration:

A program was conducted in college to raise students' awareness of the fundamental responsibilities outlined in the Indian Constitution in honor of anniversary of its adoption on November 26 every year. The discussion was on the significance of fundamental duties and on the ethics of mindfulness in regards to different aspects of the Constitution. The students also debated the state of the Indian government and the Constitution at the present time.

3. Street Play: Gender Equality

Not only is gender equality a fundamental human right, but it is also a prerequisite for a world that is peaceful, prosperous, and long-lasting. Orientation predisposition is subverting our social texture and depreciates us all. This is not merely a human rights problem, it is a huge squander of humanity's potential. All citizens of the world will benefit from women's political, economic, and social equality. Prejudice can be eliminated by working together to advance equality of rights and respect for all. To make the society step towards the gender equality our students performed street play.
